

CONSUL KNOWS NOTHING OF VILLA'S DEATH

CHIHUAHUA CITY HAS NO NEWS OF FINDING OF BODY

GEN. GAVIRA STATES WIRES ARE DOWN NEAR PEARSON

Circumstances Combine to Reinforce Growing Skepticism in El Paso as to Truth of Story—Typhus Fever Said to Be Raging in Northern Mexico—Give Names of Dead and Wounded in Parral Fight.

EL PASO, Texas, April 17.—General Gavira, Carranza commander at Juarez, announced tonight that the Mexican telegraph wires between Juarez and Chihuahua had been blown down near Pearson about noon and for that reason he was unable to learn any further details of the reported discovery of the body of Francisco Villa.

At the same time a telegram filed at Chihuahua City, presumably before the interruption to the wire service, was received by the Associated Press from Consul Letcher saying that nothing was known in the state capital regarding the finding of the bandit's body.

Reinforce Growing Skepticism

These two circumstances combined to reinforce the growing skepticism here as to the truth of the story that the death had ended the career of the fugitive brigand. The old story that the man who is really dead is Pablo Lopez, the notorious butcher of Santa Ysabel, and that Villa has deliberately used his death as the basis of a false report to his own demise, was revived. This story was retold today by the American owner of a large ranch in the Guerrero district, who said he had received it from his ranch foreman and believed it to be true. The confidence of Mexican officials here and in Juarez that Villa is dead has not, however, diminished outwardly at least. It was pointed out today that if the body had been brought to Cuahuahua it might take a day to transport it from there to Chihuahua City. The road bed between these two points is in a deplorable condition like that of all other railroads in northern Mexico.

With hopes of Villa's death dwindling, attention here was directed to a far deadlier and more insidious foe with which reports say both Americans and Mexicans are confronted.

Report Typhus Fever Raging

Reports received here today by the American representative of large mining interests Mexico stated that typhus fever was raging in Northern Mexico and was assuming the proportions of a great epidemic.

These reports said the Mexicans, ill-nourished and living under the most unsanitary conditions, were almost helpless to resist the ravages of the disease. There are few doctors in the country and almost all of the American physicians who formerly lived there have fled across the border.

Continuation Still Lacking.

Washington, April 17.—Confirmation of the death of Francisco Villa still was lacking tonight, both at the state and war departments and at the Mexican embassy.

The only dispatch from American sources in Mexico tending to lend color to the report was a brief statement from Major Howze, of the Eleventh Cavalry now near Parral, that he had information which led him to believe that the bandit had fled some days ago toward San Barja, which is close to the place where unofficial Mexican reports say the body was found.

Capture Six Bandits.

The outstanding feature of the day's messages from the border were reports to the war department that six Mexicans, who confessed to having taken part in the raid on Columbus, N. M., had been captured and sent to Columbus for trial by the New Mexico state authorities. Another official report relieved anxiety as to the supply problem for the troops at the front. It said the forces now were fully supplied, with the exception of a small shipment of horse shoes and clothing which would go forward tomorrow. An ample supply of gasoline, was on hand, the message said, for the motor trucks and aeroplanes.

The body supposed to be that of Villa was said by the last Mexican reports to be enroute to Chihuahua City. It was pointed out at the war department however, that he point where it was found was nearly two days journey by wagon from the railroad.

That may account for delay in obtaining confirmation or denial of the report that the bandit's career has ended.

Send No Instructions.

If General Funston and General Pershing have taken any steps to make certain the identification of the body, they have done so on their own initiative. No instructions to that end have been sent from Washington, either to consuls or military commanders.

This act may be significant of the attitude of the state department. It was intimated today that the United States government might be willing to accept a formal declaration from General Carranza that Villa had been killed and order the recall of the troops.

Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, after a brief conference today with Secretary Baker expressed the view that the Carranza authorities hardly could have any object in circulating a report of Villa's death unless they believed it to be true. He agreed with Secretary Baker and other officials, however, in accepting the reports of the finding of Villa's body with utmost caution. Mr. Baker took no pains to hide his doubts, although he expressed fervent hopes that it should prove true.

It is generally admitted that every day that the troops remain in Mexico increases the possibility of serious clashes. While there has not been any opposition to the movement of the American forces by military or civil officials of the de facto, the Parral incident has served as a warning that the civil population and even the troops cannot always be controlled by those in command.

The attack on Major Tompkins' command at Parral came after cordial relations had been established with the Carranza military commander there.

Officer's Efforts Unavailing.

The Mexican officer's best efforts were unavailing to curb the disturbances of whom we said to be his own soldiers. It is known that the Washington Government would gladly withdraw the troops tomorrow if it could see the object of the expedition accomplished.

A recapitulation of official reports of what the American expedition has accomplished and at what cost other than financial shows the following:

Villa bandits killed, 70; wounded unknown; prisoners, 6; American soldiers killed, 3; wounded, 13, missing, 1.

In addition forty civilians or Carranza officers are reported to have been killed in the fighting at Parral and an unknown number were wounded.

The destruction of another army aeroplane in Mexico also was reported leaving three in active service. The aviator, Lieutenant Ira A. Rader, escaped uninjured when the machine was wrecked. Four additional planes are enroute to the border by express and the delivery of four others by the builders is expected any day.

Give Attention To Campaign

San Antonio, Texas, April 17.—Pending decisive developments in the reported death of Francisco Villa, Gen. Funston and his staff officers again gave to the campaign of the punitive expedition their undivided attention today. General Pershing made no report on the alleged discovery of Villa's body nor did news come from any other American source, official or unofficial. The Mexican consul here received the unconfirmed report from Consul Garcia, but nothing more definite was available in any quarter here.

General Funston said today that the main line of communication now as far south as Satevo could not be extended further south with the present number of troops available and frankly expressed his conviction that operations further south could not be conducted unless authority was obtained for the establishment of a new border base, the free use of railroads or the material strengthening of the forces now in Mexico.

Detached columns of cavalry are operating south of Satevo, but only

CONVICT AT CRANSTON, I. R., TELLS OF DOROTHY ARNOLD'S BURIAL

Prisoner Asserts Girl Was Buried in Cellar of House Outside West Point, N. Y.—Expresses Willingness in Locating House.

Cranston, R. I., April 17.—The mystery of the disappearance more than five years ago of Miss Dorothy Arnold, member of a wealthy New York family, may be solved by the purported confession of Edward Glennorris, an inmate of the state prison here, giving details of her burial in the cellar of a house outside West Point, N. Y. The young woman had died in the house, he said, after being removed in an unconscious condition from New Rochelle, N. Y., where she had been operated on.

In a statement made three weeks ago to Warden A. J. Davis of the prison, and which he repeated to newspaper men today the prisoner said he was paid $250 for what he did by a "wealthy man" whose name he did not know. An accomplice, whom he had known as "Little Louie," hired him at a Seventh avenue saloon in New York, according to this story, and drove the automobile which carried the young woman from New Rochelle to West Point.

The prisoner fixed December, 1910, as the time of the events which he described. It was on Dec. 12 of that year that Dorothy Arnold left the home of her father, Francis R. Arnold, a wealthy New York importer, and disappeared.

Glennorris, who still has six months of a two years sentence to serve for attempted extortion, expressed his willingness to assist in locating the house in which the body was buried and that from which the young woman was taken. He felt confident that he could find them again, altho he said he had been at both places only at night. When questioned further as to his belief that the dead woman was Miss Arnold, Glennorris said he had insisted upon knowing her name on the way to West Point and was told that she was "Dorothy Arnold."

FIGHT ON AGAIN OVER SIX CENT CAREFARS.

Boston, April 17.—The remonstrants against the six-cent fare which the Bay State street railway seeks from the Public Service commission, will have their innings today.

so far as rations for man and horse can be carried. Three detachments that met at Santa Cruz, eight miles from Parral, now have left there and probably fallen back on the line at Satevo.

Give Names of Dead and Wounded.

The latest reports received by General Funston in which mention was made of Villa gave as his location the mountains north and west of Parral. Officers here are convinced that he did not succeed in getting as far south as the Chihuahua-Durango state line. Not many details of the Parral incident were added today to the information already received. General Pershing reported the names of the dead and wounded.

General Pershing said that the officer who invited the American forces to enter Parral was a captain of the garrison there. He appeared at the American camp on the afternoon of Tuesday, courteously invited the troops to ride into the place, and spent the night with the Americans. He left the camp after breakfast for Parral. Major Tompkins had accepted the invitation in good faith, but as a further precaution he sent forward a courier to appraise the garrison of his coming. What became of the courier has not been learned.

Following are the names of the dead and wounded in the action at Parral.

Dead,
Sergeant Joe Ridgely.
Private Herbert Ledford.

Wounded,
Major Frank Tompkins.
Lieutenant James B. Ord.
Corporal Benjamin McGliel.
Corporal W. E. Willingham.
Corporal Richard Tannous.
Private I. M. Shedyer.

In addition, Private Charles Echenberger was reported missing.

With the exception of Lieutenant Orford of the Sixth infantry, all belong to the Thirtieth Cavalry.

Corporal Tannous' injury is the only one reported as serious.

NEW YORK.—Unmarried men as law-breakers outnumber married men two to one in the annual report of the district attorney of New York county. The relative proportion was retained last year when 2,484 single men, as compared to 1,244 married men were arraigned in the criminal courts.

STATE WILL CARE FOR BABIES OF FEEBLE-MINDED AT LINCOLN

President Kern of State Board of Administration Cuts Red Tape in Making Decision.

Springfield, Ill., April 17.—Red tape was cut by President Fred Kern of the State Board of Administration today when he decided that babies of feeble minded mothers committed to the Lincoln State School and Colony would be cared for at the same institution.

Miss Helen Crittenden of the United Charities society of Cook county and Attorney Smoot representing the Juvenile Protective Association of Cook county, appeared before the state board of administration today and asked that provision be made at the Lincoln home for the babies of feeble minded mothers. They told the board members that there are fifty or more women in Cook county who have not been committed because there is no way to care for their nursing babies.

Judges can't commit babies to Lincoln," said President Kern, "but we will take them as guests of the state. If these women are left outside the institution they will continue to have babies—most likely illegitimate defectives—year after year. When the babies get a little older and their mentality can be measured we can tell how best to take care of them. For the present we will provide scientifically equipped nursery."

EXECUTIVE ORDER MAKES PASSPORT REGULATIONS MORE STRINGENT

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Regulations governing the issuance of passports are made more stringent by an executive order issued today by President Wilson. Altho there has been a decided abatement of complaints of the misuses of American passports, state department officials say their issuance will be still further guarded by today's order without applicants being submitted to undue inconvenience.

Three important changes are made by the order. It provides:

First, that the certificate of the clerk of a state court as to the identity of an applicant will be accepted if a federal court is within easy access. Second, that only such state courts as under existing law are privileged to grant applications for a naturalization will be recognized as qualified to certify to the identity of passport applicants. Third, that commercial travelers and other persons whose business involves frequent trips to Europe hereafter may have their passports renewed upon the basis of their original application instead of being required to secure new passports for every trip.

AT LEAST EIGHT KILLED IN WRECK

Express Runs Down Local Passenger Train at Bradford, R. I.

COACHES CATCH FIRE

Flames Are Communicated to Passenger and Freight Stations Which Are Destroyed

GREAT CONFUSION FOLLOWS

BRADFORD, R. I., April 18.—Driving thru a thick fog the Gilt Edge Express, westbound on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, smashed into the rear of a local passenger train that had come to a stop at the station here last night.

The rear coach was telescoped and set on fire and at least seven of the passengers in it were instantly killed. An eighth victim, Mrs. Oscar Martell, of Southbridge, Mass., died later from her injuries. Thirty five others received injuries and in some cases it was feared that death would follow.

May Find Other Bodies

Early today a search of the ruins was being made and it was believed that other bodies would be found.

The engineer of the local train said that he had had trouble making steam and when he arrived at Bradford he wired to New London for instructions. He was told to draw on to a siding at Bradford to let the express pass and was just moving his train from the main track when the express bore down upon him.

There were only about fifty passengers on the local and the loss of life and most severe injuries were suffered by those in the rear car. The identified dead are:

Thomas Borden, of Westerly.
Miss Jeanette Clark, daughter of William Clark, president of the Westerly Mill of the American Thread company.

Marguerite Bliss, address unknown.

J. F. Barbour of Westerly.

The accident was due, it is believed, to wrong signals or failure to properly read signals.

The car ahead of the rear coach took fire and the flames communicated to the passenger and freight house, destroyed both buildings. A hospital train came here from New London and Medical Examiner M. H. Scanlon, of Westerly, took charge of search for the dead and care of the injured.

Great Confusion Follows

Great confusion followed the collision and it was a long time before a definite report of the accident was available.

As the flames of the burning cars and buildings died out, the train yard was left in darkness and those who went to the aid of the injured worked under great difficulties. The only telegraph lines in the town went out of commission with the burning of the station and the only communication with the outside was by a single telephone wire. Over this help was summoned from Providence and New London the former sending a wrecking train and physicians and the latter city despatching a hospital train. Four bodies were early removed and a count of those who received emergency medical treatment showed that 35 who escaped death were injured. Several of these would die, it was thought.

Throw Doubt on Estimate

A brakeman of the local train said there were 37 passengers in the rear car and he had been able to locate only seven of these. This gave rise to the report that thirty persons had been killed, but later investigation threw doubt on this estimate. A report that thirty bodies had been recovered was later disproved.

States Reports are Unfounded

New York, April 17.—Officials of the New Haven railroad, announced at 2:49 tonight that they had received a telephonic communication from Superintendent P. C. Litchfield of the New London division of the line stating that one passenger had been killed, four seriously injured and four were missing, as a result of the New Haven wreck at Bradford, R. I.

Vice-president Wally of the New Haven railroad declared shortly before midnight that reports to the effect that thirty or more persons had been killed, but later investigation threw doubt on this estimate. A report that thirty bodies had been recovered was later disproved.

"We are absolutely positive," he added, "that not more than three persons were killed, if that many."

MAKE POWERFUL ATTACK ON FRENCH

TEUTONS ARE SWEEP BACK EXCEPT IN PART OF CHAUFFOUR WOOD

Heavy Bombardments Continue Unabated Between Germans and the British—Big Guns Active on Austro-Italian Front.

Again the Germans have launched a powerful infantry attack against the French positions extending from the river Meuse to Douaumont and again they have been swept back, except where they obtained a footing in a small portion of the Chauffour wood, by the guns of the French. Heavy casualties were inflicted upon the attacking forces along the two and a half mile battle front.

The Germans have kept up their heavy shelling of Hill 304 northwest of Verdun and the second lines of the French in this region, probably with the intention of again throwing their infantry forward in an endeavor to capture these important points, keys to the Verdun position on the west.

Numerous German positions have been bombed by French aircraft.

On the British front in Belgium and France the heavy bombardments by British and Germans continue unabated. The artillery activity in the sector between St. Eloi and the Ypres-Comines canal has been especially marked.

The Germans have poured shells on the Russian positions along the Dvina river at the Ikskull bridgehead and about Dvinsk and vigorous artillery duels have been in progress in the lake region south of Dvinsk. In Galicia, along the Stripa river the Teutons have made several attempts against Russian trenches but all of them were repulsed according to Petrograd. The big guns on both sides are in action along most of the Austro-Italian front. In the Sogana valley the Austrians delivered attacks against the Italians from the Larganza torrent to Mont Collo but they were everywhere repulsed.

In Asiatic Turkey the Russians on the Black Sea coast have captured the town of Surmeneh and pushed farther westward against the retreating Turks to Arsene Kelessi, less than twelve miles from the important town of Trebizond.

The Russians are anticipating no easy conquest of Trebizond according to unofficial advices from Petrograd, the town having been heavily fortified and reinforced with three complete divisions of troops. The Turks are declared to be resisting furiously the onward press of the Russians against Baku, northwest of Erzerum, in the attainment of which the Russians hope to join hands with their men fighting in the Black Sea littoral. The British government hereafter will regulate the shipments of American packing houses to all neutral European countries for the period of the war according to an agreement reached between the government and the packers in the settlement of the cases arising from the seizure by Great Britain of cargoes of packers' products.

PREDICTS INCREASE OF TEN TO FIFTY CENTS A TON ON COAL

CHICAGO, April 17.—N. H. Kendall, commissioner of the Chicago Coal Merchants' association said today that the price of coal is going to increase from ten to fifty cents more a ton this year. Increases paid to coal diggers in the soft coal regions, the unsettled conditions in the anthracite district and the advance in costs of explosives and other supplies have forced up the fuel production cost necessitating a higher sales price, Mr. Kendall said. The winter price schedule will also be continued, he announced, until the negotiations over the wage scale have been completed.

WILSON COMPLETES SUBMARINE NOTE

Document Probably Will Be Despatched to Berlin Today

REVIEWS ACTIVITIES

Explains That Only Immediate Change Can Make Continuance of Relations Possible

TWO AMERICANS ENDANGERED

BULLETIN.
LONDON, April 18.—"The French have captured the submarine which torpedoed the Sussex and have made prisoner the captain and crew," says the Daily Mail.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The communication which he has drafted as the last word of the United States to Germany on the submarine issue was completed today by President Wilson. It probably will be despatched to Berlin tomorrow.

The document reviews Germany's submarine activities since the Lusitania was sunk almost a year ago and makes plain that only an immediate change in the German policy can make possible the continuance of friendly relations between the two nations.

Endanger Lives of Two Americans.

As the president was putting the finishing touches to the note, on which he and Secretary Lansing had been working for nearly a week, official word was received by the state department that the lives of two Americans had been endangered by an attack on the Russian bark Imperator by an Austrian submarine.

Carl Bailey Hurst, American consul-general at Barcelona, Spain, who sent the report, said the attack was without warning. One of the American citizens on board was wounded by shrapnel shells fired by the submarine. A full investigation of the incident was ordered at once by the state department. If the consul-general's report is borne out, it is probable that representations similar to those about to be made to Germany will be sent to Austria-Hungary.

As soon as the president had finished the communication to Germany he directed that Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, be invited to the white house in order that he might be informed of the intentions of the administration. Senator Stone probably will see the president tomorrow morning before the cabinet meeting.

Mr. Wilson himself was the only official familiar with all the details of the document tonight, but it was learned authoritatively that it is the least emphatic and vigorous diplomatic paper the president ever has approved.

Attacks Closely Studied.

Attacks without warning by submarines on merchant vessels since Germany gave notice that ships carrying guns would be considered as vessels of war have been closely studied by the president with the resulting conclusion that promises made by Germany have not been followed. When the preparation of the case of the United States was begun it was found that sixty-five vessels have been reported officially and unofficially as having been attacked without warning by German submarines within the past few weeks. Official reports have not confirmed all the incidents, however, and therefore all will not be included.

The attack on the channel steamer, Sussex, carrying more than a score of Americans, has been included in the evidence of the United States as one of the strongest proofs of Germany's failure to adhere to her promises.

Unofficial reports from Berlin that Germany was willing to meet the United States "more than half way" have encouraged officials here to hope that the German government may make concessions at the last which may prevent a break in friendly relations. The president, however, was represented today as being determined to force the question to a speedy settlement without quibbling or diplomatic discussion. Altho it will not figure in the communication to Germany because the necessary evidence is not at hand, the case of the British steamship Eastern City occupied attention at the state department today. A consular report from Cardiff, Wales, said the ship was sunk April 9 by a shell fire, 159 miles off Cardiff and that all the persons aboard, including two American citizens, had been saved.

ANDREW RUSSEL.

Sherman for president and Russel for governor was the substance of the resolutions adopted by the Morgan county Republican central committee Monday without a dissenting vote. The words have a good sound and Republicans hereabouts will do their utmost to see this program an accomplished fact.

There is a vast amount of comfort, a sort of soothing solace for the average man in the recent statement by Supreme Court Justice Goff, who said, "A perfect human being would be an intolerable nuisance." That's a very comforting thought, as one is daily conscious of sins of omission and commission.

The faculty of the University of Chicago is giving a good example in patriotism of a world wide kind. The fourth member has recently enlisted for service in the European war. He is Dr. Norman McLeod Harris, professor of bacteriology, who has joined the Canadian medical corps and will immediately go into service at the front. Another member of the faculty is in the Italian army, a third in the French and a fourth is a major in the Austrian army fighting in Russia. A number of the other great universities are now represented in the war, but so far as known none of them so largely as the Chicago institution.

Education as Lynch Spirit Cure.

The lynching problem which has been tackled by various organizations in the south without a vast amount of success is now being considered by an organization of prominent educators. This association has sought and is seeking to put a stop to lynching thru an aggressive educational campaign in which they combat the spirit which prompts lynching. Eighteen colleges are enlisted in the work and forty institutions of learning have given their moral support. Records show that 4,000 lynchings have been committed in the United States in the past thirty years and of this number ninety per cent were in the south. The states there are not proud of the record, tho they rightly contend that the people of the north have very little real conception of the race problems which must be met in the south. While that is true, certain it is that the lynch law never did present any real remedy for

ADVERTISING.

I asked eight dollars and a half for one fine black Polled Angus calf, which price was not too high; I hoofed it west, I hoofed it east, endeavoring to sell the beast, but no one wished to buy. Day after day I toiled along, and hoed men with the same old song, "I have a calf for quick sale; I ask eight bones and fifty cents, for this unequalled critter, cents—who will dig up the kale?"

Tacn said a friend, "Oh, rest your feet, and quit your wearing out the street, and howling by the year; spend fifty cents and advertise your sawed-off cow of pocket size, and buyers will appear." I followed up that sane advice, and put my jaded feet on ice; and when the ad appeared, ten customers came to my gate; one bought the calf and paid the freight, the others bucked and reared. And thus, by printing little ads, the wise man gathers in the scads, and rests his aching corns; a little ad will make more noise than fifty-seven boys, all tooting on their horns.

DATES IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

crime and wrongdoing, and a campaign of education, if preserved in sincerity, will in all probability do more than any other force to wipe out what really might be termed a system which has for years been a disgrace to the southland.

When some spectator left the Progressive national convention in Chicago four years ago he said, "This is not a political convention, it is a religious revival," and so Edward B. Clark, a well known political writer, declares that the next convention will be characterized by patriotic fervor. Mr. Clark says that there is no use being fooled about the convention being slim in attendance and without interest for reservations have already been made for 2,000 delegates in the Coliseum. Colonel Roosevelt will be there, along with his former running mate Governor Johnson of California, and just what relative position Roosevelt will hold with the Republican and Progressive conventions is a question that is troubling the politicians.

The press of Jacksonville is called upon to devote a large amount of space to religious services. This morning's issue of the Journal gives reports of a Christian Science lecture at the Opera House, special services at the Methodist church in Meredosia, Grace M. E. church, Northminster Presbyterian church and the First Baptist church in Jacksonville. The city press uses more church "news" than papers published in other cities. Sometimes the church people appreciate it and sometimes they do not. But with the numerous revival services in progress it need not be surprising if it is occasionally necessary to cut down the reports sent in and it is to be hoped that the church people will understand this matter from a newspaper standpoint. The Journal has the highest regard for the churches and for what they mean to the community, and is desirous of aiding in the work insofar as possible, and at the same time being fair to the reading public.

Kentucky Justice.

Real justice was administered the other day in Kentucky, where the court of appeals reversed a verdict of $500 given a man because he had been kicked by a mule. The evidence showed that the man struck the mule with a whip as he stooped over behind it, and the inevitable happened. Therein lies the reason for the court decision, for the justice who wrote the opinion declared that the mule's propensities were well known and that the mule would have been untrue to itself and to all traditions if it had failed to kick at such a time. So the complainant in the case was judged to have been so careless that he was not entitled to damages. This matter of carelessness is the greatest difficulty with reference to just enforcement of employers' liability acts. Employees are entitled to the protection, but a way of protecting has not yet been devised. It is usually more difficult to prove carelessness than was true in the Kentucky case.

"Bob" Tilton.

The death of Robert Tilton, coming so shortly after he was stricken in the circuit court room Monday afternoon, will bring a feeling of sadness not only to members of the bar, but to many friends of the deceased attorney as well. "Bob" Tilton was known as widely and as well as any member of the Morgan county bar. He did not have the first advantages that were given to some of his contemporaries, and his early days as a student and an attorney were days of struggle. But because of his indomitable will and perseverance he made a place for himself, and as state's attorney held one of the most important and best paid elective positions within the gift of the people. "Bob" Tilton had a well deserved reputation for honesty and integrity. People generally believed in his sincerity and so as a candidate he gained the support of many outside his own party. It seems particularly sad that only a few years after he had attained the position for which he had struggled during earlier years, that he should be cut off. His record is written, and it is one that his relatives and friends can review with pride.

LENTEN EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

CONTINUE AT GRACE CHURCH

Rev. Mr. Towle's Sermon On Home Influence A Masterly Effort—Interest Shows Gratifying Increase

While showing clearly that the American young man needs God, the Rev. E. K. Towle in the Sunday morning sermon at Grace M. E. church, as plainly told parents how not to raise young men to be anarchists. The evening sermon theme "The Defense of the Home," has elicited many favorable comments.

The interest in the meetings was evidenced by the large congregations and the almost breathless attention of the audience. Services as previously announced will continue over Easter Sunday, and Mr. Towle will speak at 7:30 o'clock each evening except Saturday. The singing of the chorus choir and the special numbers add greatly to the pleasure and profit of each service. Miss Rena M. Lazelle was the Sunday soloist.

Rev. Mr. Towle's Sunday Morning Sermon was closed in the following language:

Dangerous—Neglect of Home Life

"The most dangerous sign of the times is the neglect of home life and the growing disrespect of children for their parents. A little six-year old boy or girl can scream and stamp and boss a household, postpone a trip, change a program and bring a father and mother to its terms. In a home some time ago a father asked a little six-year old to shut the door, and she replied, 'I won't do it.' He said, 'Poor papa will have to shut it himself if you don't do it,' and poor papa got up and shut the door. You say that child needed fixing. I tell you that the fixing ought to begin with poor papa. Uncontrolled at 5, out-laws at 20 and in the penitentiary at 21 is true over and over. What the world needs more than anything else is some first class fathers and mothers. Many boys and girls are like the boy who came down the river on a raft with his father; some one asked him where he was brought up and he replied, 'I wasn't brought up at all, I just came down on the raft with Dad.' Many boys have never had any bringing up, they have just drifted along with a careless father. The words of a mother, make deeper impressions than any other words that touch our plastic childhood. The mother of Walter Scott was well educated and a great lover of poetry, and painstaking. The mother of Lord Byron was proud, illtempered and violent. The mother of Jacob and Esau was tricky and deceitful. The mother of Napoleon was full of ambition and energy. Bacon's mother was a woman of superior mind and deep piety. The mother of Nero was a murderess. Washington's mother was a pure good woman. The mother of Patrick Henry was eloquent in speech. John and Charles Wesley's mother was intelligent, pious, and full of executive ability. And what have these mothers given to the world? A trainer of dogs was once asked to give some rules by which he gained such good control over his dogs, and he said, 'Get the dog when it is a pup; get full control of the pup and everything else is easy; if I want to teach him a trick I have him do the thing over and over again until it becomes a habit.' God gives us our children when they are little—Oh, what an opportunity. If we were only as wise as the dog-trainer—'Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it.' Prayer and hickory that is the way to do it.

Home Example

"How the children tag at our heels. How they imitate, they walk like we walk, they talk like us, they act like we do. A friend of mine found his little boy dressed up in a complete suit of his father's clothes, hat, coat, trousers, and even had on a stiff collar and a tie and his shoes in his father's and he told the maid to take the child over and have his picture taken, and he kept that picture all the time, and he wrote under the picture, 'Look out papa, I am following you.' Ah, don't go wrong, fathers and mothers, don't lead little feet astray. A father found upon his arrival home one day that his little boy and girl were quarreling and had grown as slick as if they were fighting each other, and he asked them what they were doing, what they meant, and the little girl said, 'Why papa we are not quarreling in earnest, we are just playing papa and mamma.' Watch, and you will find your children playing papa and mamma in more ways than one. How many mothers and fathers are swimming too far out into the social current of amusement, and dissipation, with their bright boys and girls at their sides. How many have drifted carelessly into the current of indifference and neglect and your children with you. How many children are given over to the nurture of the streets by day and by night. I would as soon see my children in the jaws of a beast as to turn them loose to the culture of the streets of this town; no surer way to shame and the brothel and gambling and the people than to turn young people loose on the streets at night. Fathers and mothers, hear me, little children are looking up into your faces asking which way to go, they are following your footsteps; gather your children into your arms tonight and turn your back on sin and your face toward God."

REVIVAL MEETING CLOSING AT MERDOSIA

Services Have Been in Charge of Rev. W. L. Selby of Iowa, Assisted by George S. Beckman, Evangelistic Chorister.

Meredosia, Ill., April 17.—Special evangelistic services which have been in progress here for the past four weeks closed Sunday night. There has been a good attendance at the services all during the week and the church has been largely benefited. Rev. W. L. Selby, the evangelist brought with him no freak or odd methods but preached the gospel in its simplicity and power. He drew the line, let the chips fall where they may. Sunday night the church auditorium was filled to overflowing and it was necessary to open the lecture room in order to take care of the throng. The singing at the services Sunday both afternoon and night was a special feature under the direction of George S. Beckman. For all the services a chorus choir of forty voices has been giving good service, assisted by the young men's orchestra. A free will offering was taken Sunday for the evangelist, who made no special charge for his services, and $150 was readily contributed.

Sunday afternoon there was a meeting for men only, with an attendance of ninety.

FUNERALS

Spaulding.

Funeral services for Daniel Francis Spaulding were held from the residence northwest of the city Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were in charge of Rev. H. A. Sherman, pastor of Ebenezer church. Rev. Sherman read from the funeral ritual of the church and offered prayer. He paid a tribute to the life of Mr. Spaulding and offered words of comfort to the family. He called attention to the fact that death comes upon us all and is always dreaded except in two instances. The first is in the death of a child which is without sin. The second is in old age as in the death of Mr. Spaulding. There will be comfort to the family in looking back upon his life. They will call to mind the many kindly deeds which he did throughout his long life. It should teach those of us who are living to trust in God. If we trust God in life should we not trust Him in death. If we are true to our ideals as this man was we may look forward to meeting him in the future.

Hymns were sung by a quartet composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Williamson, Mrs. J. Edgar Martin and Charles Rowe. The flowers were many and beautiful and were cared for by Mrs. J. W. Clary, Miss Ellen Groves Miss Caldwell and Mrs. Rawlings. Interment was in Diamond Grove, the bearers being J. W. Clary, W. B. Groves, Charles Had-den, J. W. Leggett, Frank Waltham and Henry Westman.

Lampert.

Mathew Minter has received word of the death of his brother-in-law, J. P. Lampert, who died at the home of his son, W. A. Lampert in Brinkman, Okla., Saturday, April 15. Funeral services were held from the M. E. church in Brinkman Sunday afternoon and interment was in that place.

Deceased was a former resident of this city. He married a sister of Matthew and John Minter who died in Oklahoma about fifteen months ago. He enlisted in Co. B. 27 Reg. Illinois Infantry under Capt. H. W. Witt in 1861 and served for three years. Upon his return from service he followed the cooperage business in this city. He removed from here about twenty-five years ago and spent some time in Kane. For a number of years he has resided in Oklahoma. Mr. Lampert was a member of Illini Lodge No. 4 and of Ridgley encampment No. 9.

Arthur.

Funeral services for Mrs. Thana Emmeline Arthur were held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Central Christian church in charge of the pastor, the Rev. M. L. Pontius. Burial was made in Diamond Grove cemetery. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Miss Cora Graham, Miss Winifred Priest, C. L. Mathis and W. W. Gillham. Flowers were cared for by Mrs. Joseph Bourn, Mrs. Frank Hagan, Mrs. William Spencer and Mrs. James Clemens. The bearers were A. C. Reid, John Redburn, W. H. Naylor, William Crawley, James Martin and David Taylor.

EASTER REVIVAL CAMPAIGN AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Pastor's Resignation Received Sunday Morning With Keen Regret—Monday Night Sermon Scores the Hypocrite.

Sunday was a very busy day at First Baptist church. The Easter revival campaign is well under way. Large audiences greeted the pastor both morning and evening and the total conversions for the day and accessions by letter were fourteen.

Deacons T. O. Hardesty and G. H. Kopperl were ordained. The ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. Percy W. Stephens on the topic, "The First Deacon" and the Rev. G. E. Nicholson delivered the charge. Assisting in the service were Deacons A. A. Curry, Fred Walbaum, Jerry Cox and James Stout. At this service the resignation of Mr. Stephens as pastor was read to the congregation and received with great sorrow and regret.

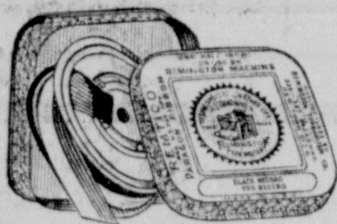

The topic at night was "The Colt Jesus Rode On," and practical, forceful lessons were drawn from the analogy between man and the donkey.

Miss Duncan's presence and work has already met with great praise. With a soprano of excellent quality, her messages are of a very high grade and exceedingly winsome. As a leader she is an invaluable aid to the meeting and the special choir is responding with great enthusiasm and loyalty. Last night the choir sang "Harvest Time Is Here" and at the close of the sermon Miss Duncan sang with great effectiveness "Someone Is Waiting for You."

The topic tonight will be connected with Tuesday of Passion Week and will be "What Think Ye of Christ." Tomorrow night the topic will be drawn from the Wednesday event of Passion Week and will be "The Silence of God." In this sermon Mr. Stephens will answer the Christian Science lecture delivered in Jacksonville last Sunday on the topic "God Is Good."

The topic last night was "The Tragedy of a Good Appearance," Mark 11:12-14. The story of the tree with leaves but no fruit was the basis of the sermon by the evangelist. Mr. Stephens said that some professors of religion who have "leaves" but no life would so fearfully contaminate angels if they would not be permitted to re-enter heaven. He said he was a firm believer in Lent, but thinks it should be kept 365 days each year and if some people he knows die out of Lent they would surely be lost.

The secret of a fruitful life is union with Christ. He said "As a branch cannot bear fruit of itself except as it abide in the vine no more can ye, except ye abide in Me."

MOSES LARGE SOON TO HAVE OWN HOME PROPERTY

Purchase Money Received Yesterday From Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

In the fire which destroyed the store of John Lindsay there was a lot of heroism displayed. Moses Large saved the life of one of the occupants of the building and was rewarded by the Carnegie Hero Relief Fund Commission and yesterday received the following letter:

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 15, 1916.
Mr. Moses C. Large,
323 North Mauvaster street,
Jacksonville, Illinois.

My dear Sir:
I am sending to-day to Mr. H. J. Rodgers, Vice President of the Ayrault Bank, Jacksonville, our voucher-check 14930 for $900, in your favor, in payment of the final installment of the pecuniary award granted to you. Please call on Mr. Rodgers and endorse the voucher-check. The payment is made on condition that $700 of the proceeds of the voucher-check be applied toward the purchase for you of the property at 360 East Walcott Street, Jacksonville, from Mrs. Catherine Devlin, and that so much as is necessary of the remaining $200 be used to meet the expense of closing the transaction for the purchase, and making the needed repairs to the house. The property will be deeded by the present owner to you for the use of you and your wife during your natural lives, and at your death the fee will go to your children. The deed will also prescribe that the property cannot be encumbered or taken for debt contracted by you or your wife, and that neither you nor your wife shall be allowed to sell your life interest. You will be required to pay all taxes assessed against the property as the payments become due, to keep the house insured, and to keep the property in repairs; and your possession of the property will depend upon your faithfully meeting these requirements.

You should systematically set aside a small amount from your earnings each month, so that you will be in position to meet the payments for taxes when they become due and to provide a fund for keeping the property in repair.
Yours very truly,
F. M. Wilmot, Manager.

TRIAL OF EDWARD KONRAD HALTED BY DEATH OF STATE'S ATTORNEY

It Was While Conducting Prosecution of This Case that Mr. Tilton Was Stricken.

In the county court Monday afternoon the trial of Edward Konrad charged with selling liquor in anti-saloon territory began. The state was represented by State's Attorney Tilton and W. W. Wright and the defendant's attorneys were W. T. Wilson and E. P. Brockhouse. It was just at the close of the evidence for the people in this case that Mr. Tilton gave evidence of illness and was assisted from the court room and taken to Passavant hospital, where his death occurred last night at 10 o'clock.

The jury which heard the case included William Dahlman, H. H. Shumaker, Spencer Carpenter, Thomas Flynn, Charles Magill, S. A. Gunn, Charles Black, John E. Boland and Clyde Black. James Fitzpatrick was the principal witness for the state but did not prove a very satisfactory one. At a previous session of court Fitzpatrick evaded summons and in January of this year was fined for contempt because of his non-appearance. Court adjourned immediately following notice of Mr. Tilton's illness and Judge Thomson discussed with the attorneys the plan by which the case could continue today. The death of the state's attorney, however, will change this program and it is likely that the trial under the present circumstances cannot be continued and that the case will go over to another term.

DRY'S END FIGHT FOR OPTION ELECTION IN DANVILLE TODAY

Withdraw Petition Asking that 422 Names be Returned to Petitions Calling for Election.

Danville, Ill., April 17.—There will be no local option election in Danville tomorrow. When court reconvened at 9 o'clock this morning the drys took a non-suit in the case and withdrew their petition asking that 422 names be returned to the petitions calling for a local option election, which had been taken off the lists by the Danville election commissioners.

Thus ends a strenuous battle between the drys and the wets, in which the dry petition was stolen from the headquarters on the eve of filing and its mysterious return just in time for legal filing. Then came the attack of the wets of the sufficiency of the petition, which was followed by the commission striking off over 4,000 names.

COOK COUNTY REPUBLICAN CONVENTION RESULTS IN DEADLOCK

Vote for Chairman Shows Deneen, Thompson and Brundage Factions Almost Evenly Lined Up.

Chicago, April 17.—The Cook county Republican convention today resulted in a deadlock among the three leaders—Deneen, Thompson and Brundage and the task of breaking it will be resumed tomorrow.

Conferences were held far into the night but prospects of a settlement seemed afar off. The test today came on the vote for chairman and it showed that three factions were, almost evenly lined up. It stood:

Miller (Thompson) .....1,514 3-5
Weber (Brundage) (neutral) .....1,494 2-5
Powell (Deneen) .....1,487

This resulted in no election. Various compromises were proposed and will be taken up at subsequent meetings.

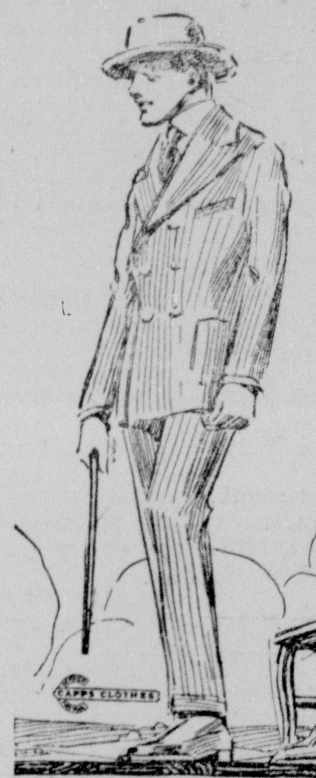

The Democratic meeting was a love feast at which Roger C. Sullivan victor in the recent primaries, preached harmony and was echoed by A. J. Sabath, of the Harrison wing.

After the meeting has been called to order, F. B. Henderson was named as temporary chairman and T. H. Buckthorpe served as secretary. The chairman called for nominations and C. B. Graff was nominated by George Kimber of Waverly, with a second by A. L. Meacham. As there were no other candidates suggested, Mr. Graff's nomination was made unanimous on motion of Simeon Fernandes with a second by V. H. Lockett. Prior to this vote Mr. Kimber had made a motion that election of chairman be by rising vote. A. L. French offered as an amendment that the vote be by secret ballot but the amendment was defeated.

After organization a committee on resolutions was appointed consisting of Frank Vickery, Simeon Fernandes, Edward Kastrup, W. N. Luttrell and Charles S. Black. They reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:

Resolutions Adopted.

Illinois is honored in having one of her sons, in the person of Hon. Lawrence Y. Sherman, mentioned for the presidency.

Therefore, Be it Resolved, That we as members of this convention do everything in our power to further Senator Sherman's candidacy for this, the highest office in the gift of the people. Be it further

Mr. Graff to Work for Party Success.

In assuming the chair Mr. Graff said that he did so understanding that the position involved considerable work and that he was ready and willing to perform the duties to the best of his ability. He said further that it was his desire to be the servant of all and that every member of the committee, whether or not they had the same views as he held during the recent primary election, would receive the same courteous treatment accorded to all. His one aim, he said, would be to work for the best interests of the party and to seek for the election of every candidate upon the Republican ticket.

"MY COUNTRY" MOVEMENT INITIATED IN ILLINOIS SCHOOLS

Centralia Man Advocates Daily Patriotic Instruction—Other Cities Are Following the Plan.

Mt. Vernon Register: The "My Country" movement which has for its sole object the demonstration of American patriotism every day in the year and especially at a time when the United States soldiers are invading Mexico on a perilous expedition, has been launched in Illinois and is rapidly gaining momentum throughout the nation.

The movement makes no pretense at being warlike in its demonstration, but rather attempts to bring the American citizen in closer touch with the colors of his country, the beautiful red, white and blue of the stars and stripes.

In many cities throughout Illinois the "My Country" movement has been launched and has met with immediate response from everyone. Small United States flags are displayed in the windows of patriotic citizens' homes and about their places of business or employment. Small silk lapel flags are daily worn and in the few days in which the movement has been launched the cause of patriotism has been advanced. Those who wear the stars and stripes and those who daily see them in hundreds of conspicuous places are hourly reminded of "My Country."

President Wilson, when advised by telegram that the movement had been launched, referred the communication to the war department and Secretary Baker instantly co-operated with the result that added impetus was given the movement. Major General Fredrick Funston was also advised by telegram, and in his message of reply said: "I am pleased with the patriotic movement which has been launched, and wish it every success."

The press of the larger cities has been asked to co-operate in furthering the movement and in many of the larger cities—St. Louis, Chicago, Detroit and Cleveland among them—it has proven highly successful.

In cities where the movement is started the Woman's club, Woman's Relief Corps and the churches and schools take it up with the result that in a very short time the city is bedecked with the stars and stripes.

The publicity bureau of the "My Country" movement is located in Centralia, Ill., and information desired about the plan will be gladly furnished by the bureau upon request.

The emblem is a button with a sky blue field on which there is a beautiful American flag and underneath the flag the words "My Country."

Not only will the school children of the United States do their part toward furthering the patriotic idea but business men are taking to the plan and decorating their places of business with American flags and are extending the decorative idea to their homes.

FALSE LEARNING

"I have just bought the Cosmopolitan encyclopedia," observed the retired merchant. "It's the finest set of books I ever saw, and I anticipate much profit and pleasure reading it."

"Well, I hope you'll quit dropping into this caravansary when once you begin the job," said the hotelkeeper. "If there's anything makes me tired, and gives me horizontal gains in my handbags, it's a man who reads his dog gone encyclopedia in the evening, then bores his friends next morning, shoveling knowledge into them."

"I have a whole lot of respect for real learning, and it makes me feel ten years younger to meet a man who can shed light on any important subject, without having to read a lot of junk for the occasion. But the kind of learning you soak up by reading an encyclopedia isn't the real goods."

"The other evening several old-timers were loafing around the lobby here, using up my toothpicks and ice-water as though they didn't cost me anything, and old Quackenbush spoke of an interesting article he had read in a technical magazine about the probable age and origin of the human race. It's a blamed interesting subject, and we all chipped in such fragments of information as we had picked up in our misspent lives. Most of us had a vague idea of Darwin's theory, and had seen pictures of missing links, but nobody knew much about the subject."

"Old Clinkenbeard sat there listening, and never chirped once. He usually has a lot to say, no matter what is being discussed, but it was evident that he didn't know enough about prehistoric man to last him five minutes."

"The next evening the same galaxy of human relics was here, and as the evening papers had some important war news, we were full of that topic. But Clinkenbeard was determined to talk about prehistoric man, and he has a voice like a rusty hinge, and it's no use for anybody else to try to converse when he is wound up. Well, doggone it, you'd have thought he had lived all thru the stone age, and the bronze age, and all the rest of the ding-donged ages, and he talked about the interglacial man as though the interglacial man had slept in his woodshed. He explained what sort of man was contemporary with the sabertoothed tiger, and what kind of delegate used to hunt the hairy rhinoceros, and he was just boiling over with information."

"He had loaded himself with alleged facts from a cheap encyclopedia, and his bad taste made me so tired I asked him to keep out of this hotel until further notice."

JUST APPLY THIS PASTE AND THE HAIRS VANISH

(Helps to Beauty)

A safe, reliable home-treatment for the quick removal of superfluous hairs from your face or neck is as follows: Mix a stiff paste with some water and powdered delatone, apply to objectionable hairs and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This simple treatment is unfailling and no pain or inconvenience attends its use, but to avoid disappointment be certain you get genuine delatone.—Adv.

USE "TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED, ACHING FEET

No more puffed-up, burning, sweaty, calloused feet or corns.

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture. Get a 25 cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get, how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.

BALDWIN LOSES DECISION; VERDICT DOES NOT SUIT CROWD

Fifteen Round Battle at Drumwright Okla., Causes Much Dissatisfaction Among Spectators.

Al Baldwin fought a fifteen round bout at Drumwright, Oklahoma, Friday night, with Otto Wallace. Wallace formerly came from Milwaukee and is now located in Drumwright and claims that place as his home. It looks like it was a "favorite son" decision. Here is what the sporting writer of the Drumwright Derrick has to say of the fight. Baldwin fights Sailor Kirk a fight at Drumwright Friday night.

"It was a pretty fight. It was the classiest little fifteen-round battle which has ever been served up to the fight fans of any community and the crowd ate it up and called for more. The bunch would have floated home on the tidal wave which engulfed Athletic hall after the fight perfectly contented if it wasn't for that decision.

"And when you say Decision, you have spilled out a whole bunch of conversation in just one word. The Drumwright fight community has become a household divided against itself; brother is against brother; ships don't salute each other as they pass in the night; automobiles don't honk at each other as they slip by; and a cloud of dissension has settled like a pall of gloom over the city.

"Referee George Walker gave Otto Wallace the decision over Al Baldwin, the Kansas City Iron Man, at the conclusion of their fifteen round argument in the Drumwright Athletic club's exhibition last night. And he sure started something when he did it.

Did Baldwin Earn Draw?
"The consensus of opinion of the crowd, as expressed in every nook and corner after the battle, seemed to be that Baldwin was entitled to a draw. It is pointed out that altho Baldwin was forced to seek cover during several episodes after the sixth round and Wallace got in some fairly good punches, Baldwin always was there on the return, he was never in much distress and in the concluding round of the battle was on his feet exchanging slashing blows with Wallace in a manner which simply and literally brought the crowd to its feet cheering madly.

Our Opinion.
"Our personal opinion is, that although Wallace forced Baldwin to hunt cover in three or four rounds, the blows he landed were more spectacular than damaging. Baldwin was rocked by several attacks which Wallace centered on him but he was never groggy in the sense of being put to the mad as a result of those attacks. He was as strong as Wallace at the finish and was right there in an exchange of slugging when both fighters cast science to the wind for the moment and exchanged blows. It was the most exciting finish that Drumwright fans have ever seen.

"Referee Walker would have come nearer to properly handling a hard problem had he declared the battle a draw. There's another thing we would like to mention right here. It may have looked all right to the home talent but to outsiders it did not size up right to see Manager Dixon in Wallace's corner. Dixon is Wallace's manager to be sure. But before that he is the manager of the Drumwright Athletic club and promoter of the fight and he had no place in the ring. Next fight he had better exercise more judgment and stay out of Wallace's corner."

Rallies failed to hold and the market closed unsettled 3/4 to 1 cent lower; with May at $1.14 1/4 to $1.14 1/2 and July at $1.13 1/2. Corn finished 1/4 to 1/2 cent up; oats ranging from 1/4 decline to 1/4 cent advance, and provisions unchanged to 1/2 cent down.

Breaks in wheat values reached an extreme of 2 1/2 cents from the top figures of the session. The selling which accompanied the fall of prices was chiefly done by discouraged holders. At times, however, aggressive action by bear speculators was also plainly in evidence. Corn maintained strength in the face of the late weakness of wheat. Offerings were light and Argentine harvest advices unfavorable. Besides, word was at hand that much replanting would be necessary in Oklahoma. In oats business consisted mostly of purchases of May, offset by equal sales of September. Export transactions were noted at the seaboard, but were said to be largely confined to oats grown in Canada.

Recent buyers of hard turned today to the selling side and caused some weakness in prices throughout the provision list also early in the session holdings were being enlarged. The reason ascribed for the selling was that the time seemed opportune to get out of the market.

NEW WAR RUMORS ARE MADE TO SERVE OLD PURPOSES IN STOCKS

Result Proves Temporarily Disastrous to War Contract Shares and Affiliated Issues.

New York, April 17.—War rumors were made to serve old purposes in today's sagging market, the result proving temporarily disastrous to war contract shares and affiliated issues. More disquieting reports were to the effect that foreigners had been ordered out of Mexico and that Germany had definitely declined to recede from her submarine policy. As for rumors of the death of Francisco Villa, Mexico's bandit chief, Wall Street inclined a willing ear, but maintained an attitude of doubt.

Chief features of weakness included Crucible Steel, American and Baldwin Locomotives, New York brake and the motors, United States Industrial, Alcohol and Cuban-American sugar, which registered an extreme loss of 2 to 11 points, while Bethlehem Steel fell 4 1/2 to 4 1/4, but closing at 45 1/2.

These reversals were the more noteworthy from the fact that opening prices were better by 1 to 4 points, Mexicans deriving the greatest benefit.

Rails occupied their unconspicuous place of recent months, but the light dealings in these stocks were invariably at impaired prices. Irregular, but in some instances, sharp recoveries, due mainly to short covering, marked the final trading, a few issues more than retrieving their losses. Total sales of stocks amounted to 510,000 shares.

Conflicting rumors regarding the progress of negotiations for the new French loan accounted for the erratic course of exchange on Paris, which moved between 592 1/2 and 599.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.) "The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these regular, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though, of course, it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

The Constipation Curse

Constipation—clogged bowels cause pain and sickness; 95 per cent of our ills, say the authorities. Sentinel Laxatives bring quick relief. All vegetable—contain no calomel. Ten doses for a dime at any druggist. Physician's sample free, upon request, if you mention this advertisement. The Sentinel Remedies Co., Inc., 800 Madison Ave., Covington, Ky.

GAVELECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE SUNDAY

George Shaw Cook Discussed Principles of That Religion Before a Large Audience—Whole Subject Handled in Very Comprehensive Way.

At the Grand Opera House Sunday afternoon George Shaw Cook, C. S. B., member of the board of trustees of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston delivered a lecture before a large audience. The closing paragraphs of the address were as follows:

Mind Alone Heals.

"It would be entirely inconsistent with the Principles of Christian Science to attempt to combine its practice with the practice of medicine. To the extent that material means were employed by the metaphysician and to the extent that he compromised with matter and placed his dependence thereon, to that extent would stultify his faith in the power of Mind as the healer of disease. By such methods the practitioner would become like the 'kingdom divided against itself,' which, Christ Jesus said 'is brought to desolation' (Matt. xii., 25).

"God said thru Isaiah, 'Come now and let us reason together,' and Christian scientists are beginning to understand that in extending this invitation to mankind God was not asking an impossible thing. Communion with the divine Mind which was what the Spanish explorer sought in Florida. Youth cannot be perpetual, but with health a man or woman can retain youthful looks till the near approach of actual old age. If a woman is dragging wearily along oppressed by some woman's ailment, she may expect a return of youthful beauty and vivacity by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—Adv.

is called God is indeed possible to one who is on this plane of existence. This has been proved by successive revelations of truth to mankind thru individuals whose spiritual perception was sufficiently clear to make it possible for them to become revelators. This succession of revelation has culminated in this age with the discovery of Christian Science which its Discoverer says reconciles reason and revelation.

Discovery and Discoverer.

"Those who have had experience in mountain climbing will recall how, after toiling up out of the narrow confines of the canon along the winding trails, they have finally been able to reach the very summit of the range. Having attained this exalted viewpoint, they have paused to gaze on the beauty of the panorama spread before them. There among the foothills nestles the village from which they have so lately made their way. Yonder thru the valley winds the ever-widening river. On the other side of the valley stretches another range of mountains, its snowcapped peaks glistening in the sunlight.

"Nothing has been added to the landscape since the traveler reached the summit, but he has attained an eminence which enables him to discern that which was already there. This experience of the traveler illustrates the phenomenon of spiritual discovery. The seer and prophet in the spiritual realm becomes such because of his ability to rise in consciousness above the narrowness and limitation of material things to the altitude of broad, spiritual vision. Thus he attains that point of view that enables him to comprehend the facts of being and reveal them to others. He does not add to that which is, but he discerns that which always was. This describes the experience of spiritual leaders of all times.

"Mary Baker Eddy did not invent anything in her discovery of Christian Science. She did not add to that which already was. She discovered the Principle underlying the spiritual healing of physical disease by the prophets, by Christ Jesus and by the early Christians. As the result of her discovery she was able to restore to the world not only the Science of Healing but the Science of being.

Mrs. Eddy's Life.

"Mrs. Eddy was born in Bow, N. H., July 16, 1821. She received her early education from her brother, Albert Baker, a graduate of Dartmouth College and at the private school of Dyer H. Sanborn in Tilton, N. H. Always thoughtful and religious, she early united with the Congregational church and remained a member of that denomination until her discovery of Christian Science in 1866. In 1875, having first demonstrated the practical worth of her discovery, she wrote and published the Christian Science text book, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures.' In 1879 she organized the Christian Science Church, which was later reorganized as The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. In 1881 Mrs. Eddy opened the Massachusetts Metaphysical College, the only institution of its kind having a charter from the Commonwealth. She wrote 'Unity of Good,' 'Miscellaneous Writings,' and other standard works on Christian Science. Mrs. Eddy established the Christian Science Publishing Society, which issues the denominational publications, including a daily newspaper, which publishes only that which is constructive and beneficial and which gives its readers a worldwide grasp of affairs.

"Mrs. Eddy saw the fruition of her life-work and the extension of the movement which she founded in every part of the civilized world.

"Mrs. Eddy has been declared by the Governor of her native State to have been New Hampshire's greatest woman, and truly she may be so regarded as the reason of her achievements. But of all her wonderful works, that for which Christian Scientists revere and love her most is her discovery, and declaration, and demonstration of the life-giving truth that God is good. Therefore they say to you, 'Acquaint now yourself with him, and be at peace' (Job xxii. 21). And for the purpose of becoming more and more intelligently acquainted with God as the infinitely good and loving Principle of your being, they commend you to an earnest study of Mrs. Eddy's book 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures.'

"This text book of Christian Science is giving its students remarkable freedom from the besetments of evil and is bringing into their daily experience the practical proof that universal good is available to mankind in every hour of need. For this they are unspeakably grateful, and because of this they are encouraged to hope and believe that you may also become students of the Scriptures in the new light thrown on them by this wonderful book, for they know that 'thereby good shall come unto thee.'

A HANDSOME SIGN

Messrs. Coover & Shreve have secured for their east side drug store a very handsome electric sign which will shortly be connected and will make a fine showing. The word 'Drugs' is in large letters electrically illuminated and the firm name is above and the whole will be a very attractive and handsome sign when in place and lighted.

SHOOT AT NICHOLS PARK TODAY The Nichols Park Gun Club will hold a shoot at the club grounds this afternoon beginning at 1:30 o'clock. In addition to the regular shoot there will be a match shoot between A. M. Masters and F. P. Vickery and Charles Magill and W. T. Craig.

FASHIONS OF 1916 NOT NEW.

SOME 36 CENTURIES OLD.

Flounced Skirts, Bouffant Hips and Apron Panniers Were Worn Long Before the Great Days of Greece.

Fashion is as old as the hills, and all the modistes in the world can find nothing really new for women to wear. Seventeen hundred years before the Christian era, women of Crete, that stepping stone from Egyptian to Grecian civilization, conformed to a silhouette that was 1916 in every detail; and smart styles then, as evidenced by mural paintings and terra cotta statuettes dug up by archeological expeditions these last several years, were so like woman's today that any attempt to copy a Cretan costume for fancy dress purposes is futile. It looks too modern.

All the statuettes of Cretan women have the silhouette of this season—full skirts, bouffant lines, apron-like panniers, ample sleeves and tight pointed bodices cut alarmingly low. There are sometimes jackets, precisely like the bolero, the Watteau panels obviously hand embroidered with crouches. The statuet of the snake goddess discovered more than two years ago on the site of the Knossos palace is so like a picture from a page of one of today's fashion magazines that, but for her towering headdress and the ultra lowness of her bodice she could pass muster in a ball room, says a writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger. The aspect of the votary that was found beside her is hardly less modern.

Her skirt is full and made up of fitted flounces, six tiers of them and a little hip peplum beneath an apron pannier. The waist is tight and tiny the bodice is very low and square with elbow sleeves cut style. Her headdress is round and a fair replica of a hat affected by a popular movie star. The hems of these full skirts are represented as trimmed with lace banding, as are also the edges of the panniers, the belts, the bodices themselves.

These court beauties sit on terraces and balustrades, smartly gowned and coiffed, bending slightly in their positions and using gestures, as the engaged in animated conversation. The hair is frizzled and curled about the head, with a little curl in the middle of the forehead and spirals before each ear. The rest of the hair hangs in a separate mass of curls down the back.

The sleeves of their gowns are sometimes high puffed ones joined across the neck with bands and showing very much décolleté beneath, or the cloth of the blouse is caught in a knot at the back and bands brought from it across the breast. All waist lines are tiny and skirts are full and flounced with trimmings of embroidered pieces. Mural reproductions of the crests, to which high born Cretans betook themselves in delight, show in their audiences a preponderance of these modern styles for women. Cretan women took part with men in the hunt, voluntarily and with enjoyment. We see them in paintings setting out together in a chariot, driving a pair of horses. They have coiffed their heads with great care, arranging the back curls more snugly and neatly than usual, but they have discarded their feminine frills and flounces for the square, plain shift of a Cretan male. Even so, women now get into men's duds to ride horseback or follow the hounds.

News has but lately reached this country of an important find in Tiryns early this year. A company of peasants were digging up a quantity of gold and jeweled ornaments, smeared, broken, corroded. Satisfied that they had struck something important, one stood guard while the others ran away to notify the authorities. Word was wired to Athens and Prof. George Karo of the German archeological expedition which has been in Athens since the beginning of the war, hurried to Tiryns to investigate and to superintend complete investigation at that spot. The jewelry brought to light proves anew the antiquity of fashions in jewelry and emphasizes the fact that there is nothing new under the sun for women to wear.

Women of the Grecian coast town of Tiryns—and before them the fashionable of Crete—wore necklaces with gold beads in them, pendants, brooches, bracelets, rings set with a stone in the center, and made largely of twisted gold wire, earrings, diadems, hairpins and hair ornaments. The gold work displays great skill. Human figures, snakes, bulls and doves are wrought in gold and used in mantle pins and (presumably) cloak clasps. There is a kind of button, gold, with perforations, as tho it had to be sewed on cloth; there is much filigree, rosetts and clasps of gold leafage. Suggestive of Egyptian influence is a flat gold chain with two figures, supposedly idols, hanging from it. As far as can be determined, this chain was worn across the woman's forehead and the gold figures dangled at either side above the temples.

MOTHER OF WIFE NO. 2

CHARGES BIGAMY.

Kansas City, Kans., April 17.—Hearing will be continued before Judge McCombs today on the bigamy charges brought by Mrs. Pauline Headman of Minneapolis against Charles Sellers, who eloped with her daughter. She had Sellers arrested last month, claiming that when the elopers departed from Minneapolis, Sellers left a wife there. Mrs. Sellers No. Two declares she still loves her husband and is willing to continue living with him if her mother will not interfere. The state attorneys have been looking up the records of the alleged former marriage, and on their findings much depends in the hearing today.

LITERBERRY.

A splendid program has been handed us of the Mid-Year Missionary Conference of the Morgan Scott County Baptist association, to be held at Waverly on next Thursday, the 20th. The Literberry Baptist people are very cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Roach and children moved to the Ben Todd Liter place, east of town, on Saturday last.

Mabel and Hazel Strickler visited at Harmony Cottage, with the Scribners, on Saturday.

Billy Gene Underbink and his mother came to Literberry Wednesday and are keeping house at Inglenook, on East Capitol street.

Mrs. C. W. Phelps and sons, Hubert and Norwood of Breenzy Point, spent Saturday afternoon at Sunshine Cottage.

The Misses Evaline Hull and Helen Young called at the same home, later in the evening.

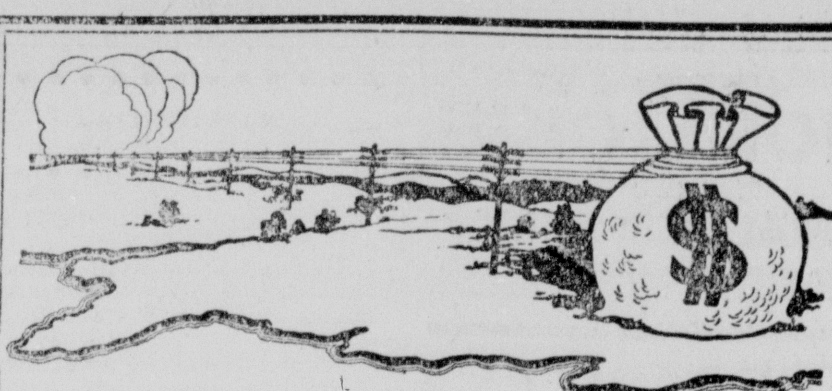

Miss Lou Ray went to Jacksonville Friday.

There will be a play at the Baptist church on the evening of the 27th, given by a part of the members of the Sunday school. On the same evening, there will be refreshments served in the basement of the church a reasonable charge will be made for the supper, but the play will be given free.

Mr. and Mrs. Durrell Crum and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Murray visited at Inglenook on Sunday. On Sunday, D. K. McCarty resigned his place as teacher of "Buds of Promise," and Mrs. J. C. McFillen was appointed to fill his place.

There has been some dissatisfaction among our game citizens of the male persuasion, on account of the erratic actions of a gentleman newcomer living on East Capitol street. It is reported that this gentleman has deliberately ignored all the fine rules and former traditions of etiquette belonging to our town. Our game population resent this demeanor and by the above mentioned gentleman and will manage to bring him up standing to answer a charge of wilful contempt of the rules and usages of good society in the village of Literberry. The charge against this gentleman is, he got out his fishing tackle one day last week and deliberately went fishing, without consulting any one; not even the fisherman's club; not asking for a union card, nor how much bait he was entitled to carry, nor anything at all about the rules of fishing. If this should happen again, the gentleman will be brought before our secretary, and find his name will be Dennis instead of Jimmie.

S. H. Crum of Crum Villa has been confined to his room for the last week on account of sickness, his friends are hoping he will soon be among them again.

"How do you make such delicious muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?"

"I make them about as you do, only I use KC Baking Powder. Mine always turn out well, so it must be the baking powder."

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

KC BAKING POWDER

is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

COUNCIL PREPARES FOR THE GENERAL CLEAN UP WEEK

Dumping Charge Will Be Temporarily Abolished—Sunday Closing of Neighborhood Groceries Not to Be Ordered Now—Would Mean Closing of All the Places of Business.

Garbage disposal and the question of enforcing the Sunday closing ordinance against outlying grocery stores were the two items of particular interest discussed at the city council session Monday morning. The garbage disposal question was brought to notice by report from the street department by Mr. Cox and his recommendation of a certain exchange of properties which will increase the size of the lot just north of the city limits that is now used as a dumping ground.

Rev. W. E. Spoonst asked the council what their position would be with reference to closing stores which kept open on Sunday, stating that a number of proprietors had asked him to bring the matter to the attention of the council. He said that some of the grocery stores now kept open part of the time on Sunday because they felt the necessity of doing so when their competitors did. This matter was referred to Mr. Martin with power to act, and the indication was that no steps would be taken for the enforcement of this time. The city ordinance covering the matter, if enforced against the grocery stores must include confectioners and limit the sales of drug stores to necessities for medicinal purposes. A strict enforcement would probably bring on a considerable amount of agitation and litigation.

Well Report
Mr. Vasconcellos reported that well No. 3 at the north side station was not producing the amount of water that had been true in the past, that water now stands in the well at a depth considerably less than was true a few months ago. It has been necessary a number of times to stop the pumps because sufficient water was not being delivered to them. He reported that Mr. Cummings, who has been working on the wells, is again on the job after an illness, and that there is expectation that the supply can be increased.

Mr. Cox in reporting for his department mentioned work in progress on Edmond street where a tile drain had been laid to connect the street with the brook. He advocated the exchange of properties between the city and E. H. Redman at a cost of $50 to the city. By vote of the council he was authorized to proceed with the proposed exchange, which will make the dumping ground more accessible and in better boundary shape.

Mayor Rodgers in talking about garbage disposal said that steps would have to be taken to prevent transfer men from dumping cans and rubbish along streets or at the road side beyond the city limits. It may be found necessary to license the transfer men and compel report on each load hauled or eventually the city may have to take over this matter. City Engineer Henderson told of plans prepared four years ago copied after ordinances in effect in some other cities in which coupon books were issued and a record kept in this way. The mayor thought that at the north side garbage ground that an elevated dump might be fixed where it would be much easier to unload and some of the refuse might be burned.

Dumping Charge Abolished for Week
At clean up week was not far off it was agreed that there will be no charge for that week and the use of the dumping ground. In the past some transfer men have followed the plan of charging a customer the dumping ground fee of 25c a load and then putting the refuse at the side of the road. Mr. Vasconcellos reported that the clean up work at reservoir park is finished and the property will soon be turned over to the park board for their care. He recommended that the city advertise for bids for completing the laying of water main on East Independence avenue and Hooker street and Mr. Pyatt, the clerk, was authorized to ask for such bids.

Mr. Martin announced the appointment of some clean up inspectors for three wards. They are as follows:

First Ward—Mrs. George W. Ingdoun.
Second Ward—Mrs. E. B. Spink.
Third Ward—Mrs. E. C. Carpenter.

Fourth Ward—Mrs. J. H. Damskin.

Strict Sunday Closing Asked
Rev. W. E. Spoonst then asked the council what would be their stand with reference to closing of grocery stores in the residence districts on Sunday, stating that a number of store keepers had asked him to bring the matter before the council. He said that the grocers who had spoken to him did not want to keep open but that for fear of losing the patronage they had felt compelled to keep stores open. Mayor Rodgers did not see the logic of this argument and said that there was no more reason for a store keeper breaking the law because some one else did than for a man to be a burglar because some body else engaged in that practice. He then read the ordinance providing for Sunday closing and it is so worded that if enforced rigidly would limit the establishments to open on Sunday to restaurants and drug stores, confining sales in the latter to necessary medicine. Without very much discussion the matter was referred to Mr. Martin, who said that unless it be the wish of the council and the city to close up everything tight, that there would be no use talking to the grocers about it. In other words, the law cannot be enforced against grocers if other violations are permitted. Mr. Martin said nothing could be done about it unless strict enforcement was desired or the ordinance amended.

TO AIR INSPECTION "SCANDAL" IN COMMERCE COURT

Washington, April 17.—Assistant Secretary of Commerce Sweet and Solicitor Thurman of the commerce department will hold a hearing today on the charges of lax inspection brought by H. S. Powell, Washington representative of a New York plumbing house. Powell charges that the agents of the department of commerce have been lax in accepting government steamship equipment. His charges are directed against Inspector Charles Yates, who approved plumbing fixtures for the U. S. coast survey steamer Surveyor, now building at Manitowoc, Wis. Material inferior to that specified in the contract was accepted, Powell charges. He accuses the shipbuilding company with intimating that he would withdraw his protest against acceptance of his competitor's bids.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS.

New Orleans—The women of the South are taking a large part in the great congress of educators, churchmen, sociologists and public spirited citizens from all the states of the South, which opened active work here today. Mrs. Nellie Peters Black of Atlanta presided at the opening this morning of the Conference for Southern Women. An unusually strong programme of subjects and speakers has been arranged for the next four days. The most prominent matter of discussion is the community life problem in the South. Organizations to bring people in each community together for mutual understanding and help are sadly needed, is the sentiment of the southern women.

London.—The return of Lady Paget, exhausted from her relief work in Serbia and her long trip thru Roumania, Russia, Sweden and Norway to reach London, has brought to her a flood of compliments and the thanks of the big people of the world. Lady Paget cared for Serbians and Bulgarians alike in her big hospital at Uskub, and when she was forced to leave for Sofia, she was the guest of the queen of Bulgaria.

Washington—Another romance of the diplomatic corps has been interrupted by the war scare in Holland. Miss Mabel Johnston of this city had all preparations completed for her wedding on April 25 to Marshall Langhorne, Secretary of the legation at the Hague. The groom-to-be was on his way home, and had reached London. He had even departed for the war, when suddenly orders were cabled to hold him and request that he return to his post at once.

San Francisco.—If the divorced wife of Commander William P. Cronan, U. S. N., has her way, and the divorce granted some years ago is annulled, Nellie Grant, granddaughter of the late President Grant, will be in a difficult position. She is now Mrs. Cronan, having married the naval officer in 1913, after the divorce of his first wife. The Cronans have a ten-month-old child. The divorced wife, Mary Cronan, of Larchmont, N. Y., has petitioned the courts here to set aside the divorce decree which she obtained in 1910. She claims that Cronan in testimony before a Washington, D. C. court, declared that the divorce was obtained through "fraud and collusion."

Washington, D. C.—The National D. A. R. Congress opens here today and will occupy the entire week. Some of the most prominent women of the country are here as delegates. Mrs. Willis Cummings Story, is presiding as President General. The daughters are co-operating with the American Defense Society, and will especially observe "preparedness night" on Wednesday, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington. Speeches by prominent men and women will feature the evening.

Greenwood, Miss.—The fund of $5,000 for placing a memorial window to the women of the South in war-time in the building being erected by Congress in Washington to the memory of the women of the North and South during the war, is now completed. It was raised thru the South under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough of this town, who is chairman of the committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Congress raised $750,000 for the building, which will stand in Washington as a monument to the women of the North and the South, and the Confederate Daughters were allowed to place there a window of their own.

Chicago.—From the music halls of Paris to the Mexican border went Miss Marguerite Buckner when the big war broke out in Europe. After putting her ranch in shape and organizing her cow-boys into sure-shoot protection of her cattle, and after an escapade in which she led her cow-boys over the Mexican border after villa's raiders, she is coming to Chicago to make her American opera debut. Miss Buckner made good in Vienna and Paris, and was in her second season when she was interrupted by the war. She is an out-door girl, a sure shot, a skilled rider and an opera singer.

ROBERT TILTON ANSWERS THE DEATH SUMMONS

STATES ATTORNEY WAS STRICKEN IN COURT ROOM WHILE CONDUCTING CASE.

Death Occurred A Few Hours Later at Passavant Hospital—A Similar Attack Suffered Year Ago—Mr. Tilton A Self Made Man Who Had Succeeded Well In His Profession.

The death summons came quickly to Robert Tilton Monday and his useful life went out at 10 o'clock last night at Passavant hospital where he had been a patient but a few hours. While trying a case in the Circuit Court Monday afternoon Mr. Tilton was stricken and at 4:30 o'clock was removed to his home where Dr. Edward Bowe attended him. Soon afterward the patient was taken to the hospital as it was very evident that his condition was serious. Uræmic poisoning was the cause of death. He had suffered an attack from the same malady more than a year before and for weeks his life hung in the balance. Since that time the most careful habits of life and diet had been necessary.

In the court room during the course of the trial attorneys noted that Mr. Tilton was not at his best and his manner of speech was not wholly coherent. They realized that he was not feeling well but even when the attack came there was no idea that the illness was fatal and his death will come as a great shock to his associates and friends.

Born in Jacksonville, Robert Tilton was the son of Peter and Martha Robertson. Tilton and was born in this city Nov. 27, 1865. At that time the family lived in the old homestead which stood just west of the present residence of Dr. H. L. Griswold at the corner of West State and Kosciuszko streets. He attended the public schools and Whipple academy.

In 1884 Mr. Tilton entered the law office of Morrison and Whitlock and began the study of law. In May 1888 he was admitted to the bar and for a time he had offices with Judge H. G. Whitlock, the he always practiced his profession independently. His practice grew with the years and eight years ago he was elected States attorney of Morgan county and four years later was re-elected. In 1892 he was appointed United States commissioner which was the only office he ever held aside from that of states attorney. Robert Tilton was essentially a self made man. Few men overcame the obstacles that confronted him in his fight for success. He was a man who made and kept friends, and always had a smile and a cherry word for everyone. He was especially devoted to his parents and to the nephew and niece children of his brother Ernest and was a man of kindly heart and strong purpose.

Mr. Tilton was prominently identified with the fraternal life of the city. He was for many years a member of Favorite Lodge No. 376 Knights of Pythias and took an active part in the working of the order. In fact in every order to which he belonged he was a valuable member. After he became an Odd Fellow he was a member of the degree staff of Urania lodge No. 243. At the time of his death he was serving as Junior Saganore in Delaware Tribe No. 78 Improved Order of Red Men. He also was a member of Elks and Moose. He also was a devoted member of Trinity Episcopal church and while at Whipple Academy affiliated with Phi Alpha society.

His parents and two brothers, William I. and Ernest Tilton both of this city survive. There also survives one niece, Grace, and one nephew, Robert Paul.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

SUCCESSOR TO MR. TILTON WILL BE APPOINTED

The death of State's Attorney Robert Tilton naturally raises the question as to his successor in office. Several attorneys were consulted last night but they were unable to state definitely just what procedure will be necessary. It is certain that no election need be called since the next regular election is to come within less than a year following the death of the attorney. The general opinion is that Mr. Tilton's successor will be appointed by the county board. This is a rule with reference at least to some county officers. One attorney in discussing the matter was inclined to the opinion that the appointment of a state's attorney must come from the governor direct.

A FLOURISHING SCHOOL.

Dr. Wolfe of this city has a brother, Prof. A. J. Wolfe, Ph. B., A. B. and B. D., of Milligan college, Tennessee, and Oberlin college, Ohio, who is principal of a school in Big Stone Gap, Virginia. An article in the Big Stone Gap Post gives a glowing account of the school of which Prof. Wolfe has been principal for two years, tells of the various departments, the campus, athletic field and gives a number of interesting facts concerning the place of learning and awards much praise to the principal for his excellent work.

Big Stone Gap is the home of John Fox, Jr., whose writings have made some places in the south famous.

NORTHMINSTER REVIVAL BEGINS SUNDAY WITH GOOD INTEREST

Lenten Week Series Continued Monday Night With Sermon on Value of Time.

"Now" from 2 Corinthians 6:2 was the subject of the Rev. W. E. Spoons at the first week night service of the Lenten series Monday. The opening services were held Sunday and a good attendance marked both services. Monday night the pastor, in part, said:

"Not to be sensational do I use this text; but to emphasize its great importance. How old are you? Of all your years only 'now' is yours. Let me by some questions impress the fact.

"What are you doing with 'now'? What may be done with it? "Some are spending it in money making. It is well enough to make money; but 'now' is too precious to spend it in doing that alone. Money-making is the one aim of many. It would seem as if God had given them their powers to that end. What folly!

"Some are spending it in getting an education. This is laudable work. Truth makes the mind stronger; the world and the universe larger. Every new truth gained is a new star in the constellation of the sky of the soul. But 'now' is not rightly used if a knowledge of nature only is sought. The knowledge of chief importance to the soul is the knowledge of God.

"Some are spending it in the pursuit of pleasures. Time spent in the pursuit of earth's pleasures is oftentimes wasted. It is time spent in the ruining of character, in injuring the sensibilities of the soul.

"What is the state of your soul, 'now'? Your soul's condition is the most important matter that can engage your mind. Nothing can be of such importance.

"Upon its state depends your relation to God. Are you a child or an enemy? "Upon its state depends the possibility of soul growth. The soul that is not right with God cannot grow Godlike. In this consists the true progress of man.

"Upon its state depends its happiness. No soul can be truly happy estranged from God. The universe is against such. What, then, is your state now. Your answer: I am a moral man. That is a good character to have. But have you never offended God? And if you have, what have you done about the offense. Does morality cleanse away sin against God? Does abstaining from going into debt clear up the debts already incurred?

"I am a church member. But your reply does not answer my question. Relation to the church does not always show relation to Christ. Many church members are good Christians, all should be such, but all are not. "I am an unbeliever. You do not believe that Jesus is Divine. Why do you not so believe? Do you ask Him to do anything for you in the right way that He was unable to do? Would it not prove Him to be God if He should cleanse your heart, make you a new creature, fill you with the peace of heaven? Well, did you ever ask Him to do this for you? How can you explain what He has done to men about you? He has transformed their lives, and made their hearts and homes happy. "I am a backslider. Ah! What did Jesus do to you that you left Him? Do you see the advantage you have given His enemy? The devil can point to you and say you preferred his service. You say: "I am a Christian. I came to Jesus and now rejoice in His favor and love. But again let me ask you—

"What should every sinner do now? Seek reconciliation with God. Do not defer this. Men get harder in sin thru procrastination. Habits become stronger, and God more and more outraged. The Judge may be at the door. Repent now."

SECOND WARD TEACHERS' ORGANIZATION MET TUESDAY

Evening Session Held So That Fathers As Well As Mothers Might Attend—Splendid Musical Program Followed by Social Hour.

The Parent-Teachers' association of the second ward held a meeting Monday evening at the Lafayette school building. The program was arranged for the evening so that the fathers as well as the mothers of the children might be present. A musical program of special excellence was first given and afterward came a social hour with refreshments. The exhibit of the domestic science and manual training departments constituted a pleasing adjunct of the social hour.

Mrs. Clarence Reid, president of the organization, presided and Mrs. A. C. Scarlett was the secretary. The musical program had been arranged by Mrs. Herbert J. Capps and Miss Wardhaugh and the refreshment committee included Mrs. Frank Plouer, Mrs. E. H. Doolin, Mrs. Samuel Hunt and Miss Leck. The musical program included the following numbers:

Trio, piano, violin and cell—Miss Mabel Wyatt, Miss Minnie Hoffman, Mr. Paul Morrison.

Duet, from "La Roi La Di"—Misses Stella Shuff and Lena Hooper.

Piano solo—Mrs. Edgar Martin. Reading—Miss Stella Shuff.

Group of songs—Mr. Albert Strausser.

The audience found the program one of exceptional merit and each number was thoroughly enjoyed. The exhibits in both departments were of a kind to indicate the excellence of the work being now done by the pupils.

The committee already mentioned prepared the refreshments and little girls from the school did the serving. Altogether the meeting was one of the most successful of the series that the Parent-Teachers' association has given.

The husband died and she married again after 1890 and not very fortunately, but technically she deprived herself of the right to a pension.

Her case was laid before several veterans of the war who knew all the facts as stated and they cordially recommended her for a pension and accordingly application was made thru a special bill which was the only means and much to the lady's delight the measure passed and credit is due Mr. Rainey for his kind and earnest effort in the matter.

Nominations were made and the names were written upon a blackboard and then all those present wrote out lists of the men of their choice. Tellers were used to read the ballots and the men receiving the highest number of votes were chosen the delegates to the two conventions. Mr. Rees and Mr. Doying tied for ninth place and the former withdrew. Then it was decided that the eight persons named as state delegates who did not receive the requisite number for selection for state delegates be named as delegates to the congressional convention, together with the chairman, A. D. Arnold, and the secretary Haller Higgins, and this was the order:

H. E. Frye ..... 8
Thomas Walsh ..... 8
H. H. Vasconcellos ..... 7

The committee then adopted the following resolutions:

"Be it resolved by the members of the Democratic County Central Committee of Morgan County in regular convention assembled that we hereby with the utmost pride endorse the administration of President Woodrow Wilson and commend his wisdom and statesmanship in guiding the affairs of this nation during the greatest crisis the world has ever known, and we further commend his able services in preserving the neutrality of the United States and in maintaining with honor and dignity peaceful relations with all nations. We further endorse his sound financial, commercial and industrial policies in behalf of the whole people to extend equal and exact justice to all.

"Be it further resolved that we endorse the administration of Governor Edward F. Dunne and commend his high sense of public duty, his faithful service and untiring efforts in behalf of the state and the people of Illinois. The unfailing conscience, wisdom and courage that have always marked the public and private life of Governor Dunne have qualified and enabled him as chief executive of the state to solve all state and public problems with such promptness and prudence that under his administration Illinois has reached its highest standard of service and achievement.
